

Welcome to

The campsite is located in Névez (between Concarneau and Pont-Aven), in a quiet and peaceful tourist area. Its wooded grounds feature many species of trees and flowers. A private footpath leads you and your children directly and safely to the broad sandy Raguenez-Tahiti beach, just 300m away. This beach is on the southern edge of the campsite. To the west, other beaches are easily accessible. The sea is ideal for gathering shellfish and sailing. It looks out to the islands of Glénan, Groix and Verte and to the Raguenez peninsula, accessible at low tide. Boats can be launched from a slipway and moorings are available (apply at the town hall). This little "Tahiti" in Cornouaille has been a delight to successive generations of campers who enjoy family holidays and long days lazing on the beach. But its enchanting setting is not the only reason to explain the long-lasting success of the establishment.
